Process pilots...

... advise, assist, and conduct young people (0-27 years) suffering from (imminent) mental, physical, psychological, or impairments of their mind, and therefore being entitled to settling-in- allowance benefits as well as their parents, custodians, and/or legal guardians.

Frame conditions:

- independent and for free
- by phone, face-to-face (upon appointment, possible even by video format) or in the office or in situ (household, school, nursery school. etc.)

Process pilots have the following duties:

- inform about and advise on settling-in-allowance benefits for young people
- assist with filing of applications for benefits
- conduct applicants through the application process until its grant or even beyond
- upon request, attend negotiations with providers and benefits providers as a representative
- conduct the applicant through any potential opposition proceedings
(Note: no legal advice!)

One-stop assistance and conduct for young people and their families imply for them to facilitate implementation of entitlements of benefits and services available!

Our aim is participation:

Participation includes.
